Regulations of the Board of Health.

HONOLULU, November 13, 1895.

The taking of fish, shell-fish or any product of the sea, or water of any pond, stream, creek, inlet, bay or harbor, or upon the sea to a distance of two miles from the shore within that portion of the waters of the district of Kona, Oahu, lying between a line formed by the east wall of the enclosure for dredging at Kakaako to its southwest corner, thence to sea in a straight line with the spar buoy, on the east, and on the west by a line running from junction with shore of the west wall of the Kahi Kapu fish pond near Moanalua to its most western point, thence straight to sea in line with the most western point of the islet known as Kakaakaula, in the District of Kona, Oahu, and from mountain to sea is strictly prohibited.

The sale of fish and of all products of the sea is prohibited in the District of Honolulu, excepting at the new market building and such other places as are specially permitted, where scale fish, oysters, clams and lobsters from water outside of the above limits may be exposed for sale under supervision of Inspectors appointed by the Board of Health.

Such Inspectors shall have power to seize, condemn and destroy any fish or product of the sea exposed for sale, or brought to the market, which they shall have reason to believe was taken from the locality prohibited in these regulations, or which shall appear to be unfit for food.

The regulation of the Board of Health relating to the taking and sale of fish dated Oct. 11, 1895, is hereby rescinded.

By order of the Board of Health,
JOHN T. WATERHOUSE,
President.

OBSERVATIONS.

News comes by the steamer Monowai that the New Zealand Government, owing to the hostility displayed in the Legislature, abandoned the proposal to subsidize the Canadian-Australian line for having Auckland made a port of call. It is represented that the experiment of New South Wales with the line has been a failure, as the trade developed has only proved to be a small one with the province of British Columbia. Instead of an exchange of products with all of Canada. Considerable favor is being shown, however, to a proposition that the San Francisco service should be extended to Vancouver and larger and faster steamers be employed. With all the Australian Colonies and Canada contributing to a single line, running to both San Francisco and Vancouver, besides having steamers equal to any afloat in size, style and speed, a fortnightly service might also be expected as practicable.

From editorials and news in the Apia Times it would appear that the Government of Samoa, bolstered up though it is by Germany, Great Britain and the United States, is treated with disrespect by a majority of the people. One chief refused to put in a voluntary appearance before the court, and a white officer sent to arrest him returned chopfallen without his man.

This paper did not originate the movement for a Labor Union. It was the first English paper, however, to give the news of the movement. Incidentally to giving the news the BULLETIN simply upheld the right of the workmen to organize for their mutual benefit, as the planters and merchants have long been organized. The matter has been agitated in the Portuguese press for some time, and, so far as has appeared, there is no party politics to be allowed in the organization. This is stated to the best of our information and belief. There is great dissatisfaction felt by workmen at the wages paid for labor in Honolulu. Hence the movement in question.

Great Britain has another Ashantee war on her hands. She insists on the occupancy of Coomassie, the capital of Ashantee, "so as to convince the friendly natives that Britain's protection is real." The King of Ashantee objects and whets his spears for British blood.

Every great rain storm proves that anything less than good paving for the streets is false economy. How many thousands of dollars' worth of comparatively recent road-making has been washed away by the kona of yesterday?

A well-known resident declined to sign a petition for the release of the political prisoners, when he was first appealed to, but in a few hours changed his view of the matter, because, as he said, he found a great preponderance of opinion in favor of leniency among his acquaintances.

President Dole simply "recommends" that a certain day "be set apart" for thanksgiving. Why does he not set it apart for such, and declare a closing of all Government offices?

NEW ROAD JURY.

The Chief Justice Selects a Panel for the Marshal.

In the matter of a new road along the easterly bank of the proposed new course of the Nuuanu river from King street bridge to the line of Vineyard street, and the extension of Beretania street in a northwesterly direction until it intersects King street, Chief Justice Judd has selected the following twenty-four names for Marshal Brown to draw a jury of six persons from:

J. Q. Wood, J. N. K. Keola, A. B. Wood, J. M. Tracy, J. N. Wright, E. D. Toney, W. Horace Wright, C. Bosse, Theo. Wolff, W. T. Brigham, E. H. Wodehouse, Jos. Marsden, W. C. Wilder, T. J. King, C. L. Wight, E. L. Marshall, Gilbert Waller, J. A. Kennedy, Rev. J. Waihaman, P. C. Jones, T. E. Wall, W. L. Hopper, E. O. White, Bruce Cartwright.

The Minister of the Interior had informed the Chief Justice that the proceedings in regard to the new road had been abandoned for cause, and it had been made to appear to the Minister that such road should be opened, also that Beretania street should be extended as stated. Therefore the Chief Justice took the action mentioned, accompanying his note to the Marshal with a man showing the proposed new roads.

Having drawn the jury, the Marshal will exhort them to meet at some convenient place in the locality, and attending with them cause their decision, or that of a majority of them, to be immediately certified to the Minister of the Interior.

The proposed extension of Beretania street would come out at Rawlins' soap works.

Immigrants to be Arrested.

Minister Cooper and Marshal Brown went over to the quarantine station this morning to see the Chinese who refused to sign labor contracts. They still refused to do so and Marshal Brown will arrest them this afternoon for violation of their permits, which forbid them landing excepting to perform agricultural or domestic labor. This is a necessary preliminary to their deportation.

JUDICIARY NOTINGS.

Will of Princess Poomakalani-Chinese Guardian Enjoined.

For earlier court news, crowded out yesterday, see 7th page.

Before Judge Whiting today the will of the late Princess Poomakalani was admitted to probate, Queen Dowager Kapiolani being appointed executrix under $10,000 bond. Kahookano for proponent.

In the matter of the Luk Sang minors, Judge Whiting has issued an order rejoining the guardian, Wong Kwai, from leaving the jurisdiction of the Court until further order. The injunction has been issued on motion of Lyle A. Dickey, attorney for the minors, to secure the interests of the minors pending an accounting before the Court. Respondent will probably be served with process in equity for discovery, as it appears he has executed heavy mortgages of property belonging to the estate, and it is alleged there has been no showing of the disposition of moneys borrowed. The respondent belonged to the defunct firm of Chulan & Co., of which the late C. Aleo, Chinese Commercial agent, was a member.

The great Waimanalo water case is being argued before the Supreme Court in vacation by stipulation. Wong Leong and others, lessees of Waimanalo Sugar Plantation, are plaintiffs, and W. G. Irwin is the defendant. C. Brown and Hartwell for plaintiffs; Kinney for defendant.

Cheong Hoy, a plaintiff in two cases, one equity and one assumpsit, has this day discontinued the said cases, which were both against the Chen Wo Company, of which Ah In is manager. It is said that in consequence of his discontinuance, charges of perjury against Cheong Hoy in the District Court will be withdrawn. J. Brown was found not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon on "Seott" Brown.

Kahoolawe is on trial today for conducting a chess game. Kane defends him.

Free Beer.

There has been considerable comment about town upon the action of the customs authority in regard to tapping a keg of beer out of each consignment. It is reported that some of the liquor dealers have declared their intention of refusing to receive bonded goods.

Mr. Cunningham of the Anchor, corner Nuuanu and King streets, says he shall not make any kick. He desires to extend an invitation to any one present at the wharf, when his keg is opened, to come forward and imbibe free of charge. The remainder of the consignment will be dispensed at the Anchor saloon at two schooners for a quarter.

Dumas on the Drama.

M. Alexander Dumas' views on the drama are interesting, coming, as they do, from a master of the craft. His latest expression of them is particularly so, as he deals with the theater from the standpoint of a moralist. He begins by claiming for the play writer an influence and power greater than that of the soldier, the politician, the writer in the press or the orator. The only power to which he is willing to yield precedence is that of religion, because it has to do with the divine side of the man and his highest and last aspirations.

BULLETIN BICYCLE CONTEST.

The subjoined ballot, renewed in every issue, will be received at the BULLETIN business office, 609 King street, until 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, November 27, 1895. Each No. of ballot will only be acceptable up to the time noted on it, and ballots will be counted and the results announced immediately thereafter. More than one vote for one bicyclist or one bicycle on a single ballot will render it void.

THE PRIZE.

The "Most Popular Bicyclist" according to the ballots cast will be awarded the prize of the "Best Bicycle" sold in Honolulu according to the same vote. The following named gentlemen have kindly consented to act as tellers and judges of the contest:

C. M. WHITE,
J. T. STACKER,
E. A. WILLIAMS.

Timely Topics

The able address by Mrs. Sturtevant-Peet, president of the California Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the occasion of the annual convention of that body in San Francisco, contained a passage which takes strong ground on the benefits of the bicycle. In speaking of physical culture and the relation of the clothes to the subject, she said:

"All know the value of a strong unhindered body. For this reason the banishment of the corset and restricting bands is a foregone conclusion."

Dress reform has pressed its claims for forty years, with little progress till the bicycle, that graceful, silent steed of motion, dashes through and bursts open the door of prejudice. This mystic wheel that we meet on every road and street is the mute but telling advocate of dress reform.

It has its virtues as well as its charms. It invites, yea, demands, simplicity in dress. It encourages physical exercise and utterly refuses to carry a drunken rider. Unlike the horse, it balks when touched by the hand of inebriety. It inconveniences and discourages the use of cigars and cigarettes to the number of 65,000, 000 a year. In short, the wheel is a reformer, and, though, it came not through the virtue of moral conception, we should welcome its presence as we do the advent of every new invention and corporate edict bearing the balm of sobriety, with the promise of stronger and better men and women."

This is a straightforward expression from an able woman who led the California forces of one of the greatest National organizations ever instituted for the uplifting of the race. The dignity and earnestness which characterize her opinion cast into the shades the hallow objections which some physicians have made to the bicycle. Mrs. Peet gives us to understand that in the sole aspect of requiring women to dress sensibly this simple instrument of locomotion has accomplished more at a dash than the preachers on sensible dress for women have been able to bring about in nearly half a century. With so eminent an indorsement as this, even the most timid woman who is not held in what amounts to physical restraint by father, husband or brother from obeying an instinctive impulse to dress rationally and enjoy life and health on a bicycle, may at least console herself with the reflection that her impulse was right and lament that she was born a few years too soon.

In addition to the above Mrs. Peet might have mentioned the saving in labor attained by the patent sprocket attached to the Tribune wheel, which amounts to over 15 per cent, no small desideratum when ladies are concerned.

The Tribune is the wheel par excellence for ladies' use, it has the newest patents and improvements and can be run with 15 per cent less work than any other wheel in existence.
